VOL. IV. RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1868. NO. 97.

The Daily Sentinel.

THE LADIES' COLUMN.

Whenever a new fashion comes out a few elderly people are certain to recognize it and call it an old one; but now the Paris correspondents tell us a really old fashion is coming once again into vogue—ladies are beginning to powder. At the Opera last week were five very young married women all powdered. If powder is once patronized at Compiegne it is certain to become a fashion in Paris immediately; and many will say, as hoops and panniers are accepted, why not powder?

The Paris correspondent of the Bon Ton says:

"The costumes worn by the ladies at Compiegne during the day are of the most brilliant description. A new style has been inaugurated for this year's festivities, and the oiseaux colibris, to which I referred last week—those shot velvets of bright dazzling colors—is the material chosen for their composition. Some are exact imitations of the plumage of the humming bird.—There are green velvets shot with violet, blue velvets shot with gold, brown velvets shot with flame color; in fact, every variety and contrast imaginable. Black velvets shot with colors are also charming; black and emerald green, black and ruby, black and sapphire, black and topaz, are all most effective; jewels thrown upon the soft rich ground could not be more dazzling. And all these velvet costumes are made in the Louis XV. style. The Empress has worn a black velvet, shot with green, made au Petit Versailles. The make called the "Petit Versailles" is a sort of casque, fitting the figure in front and loose at the back. It is very like a Watteau, the chief difference being in the plaits; instead of one large flat plait behind, it has two plaits. The upper part of the garment describes a square pelerine, edged with either a satin or gros grain ruche. The satin waist band passes under the plait and is fastened at the side. The satin ornaments used for decorating these costumes are shot, like the humming bird velvets."

The London Queen discourses the "good mother" question in a style which is likely to command universal assent, at least from the entire tribe of husbands and fathers:

"We have heard it said in praise of such women, that they were "such good mothers." They might be deficient in power of household management; they might give no heed to husband or friend; they might remain always at the same stage of mental development, rather sinking, perhaps, than rising; but all was to be forgiven on account of their excellent motherhood. Just in the same way have we heard a cat, who had an evil temper and was nothing of a mouser, praised because she took care of her kittens, kept them clean, and fed them well.

To our mind those women who have no thought beyond their nursery, and to whom, indeed, their entire household is but an extension of the nursery, fall greatly in the fulfilment of their duty. A woman who is at the head of a house has duties to fulfil towards husband and friends, to herself and her society, which she cannot neglect without some amount of wrong-doing. If she allows her children to absorb all her time, her thoughts, and her love, she fails, not only in her immediate duties, but also in that perfect motherhood which she is striving after. For children grow up. They do not always remain animated dolls, to be played with, and dressed, and watched over. A time comes when they need edusation and society, and to be equal with their fellows in the world. Then, if the mother has been content with being the nurse and slave of her children, she finds it impossible to retain her place and influence over them.—She is behind the age, and they find it out; she has lost the fashions of sociciety, and it is a trouble to her to be with her children when they enter it; she has estranged her husband, who has no interests, except those of the children, in common with her, and she finds it impossible that they should be one again in heart, and mind, and life.

While we should be very far indeed from saying that her children ought not to be the object of great personal care and interest to every mother, we yet feel that there is a danger which some women run of making their children all in all, and neglecting themselves, their friends, and, worst of all, their husbands, in a manner which is entirely unjustifiable, and thoroughly to be reprehended."

The vivacious Natalie of the Courier, here, has the courage to denounce, as vulgar, the ostentatious display of bridal presents, on the occasion of every "public wedding." She says:

"In view of the numerous weddings which are expected to take place this winter, will it not be as well for some of the satirists who are aiming their arrows at the Grecian bend to keep a few in reserve ready to hurl at the vulgar display of presents which will probably be a prominent feature of these recherche events. The last telegram on the subject, which declares that it has become necessary for paps to hire a detective to keep watch over the treasures, is not to be wondered at, seeing that the treasures are frequently hired for the occasion. The sameness in gifts is one of the ludicrous features of the custom.—We attended a wedding, not long since, where the bride was the recipient of nine dozen teaspoons—indeed teaspoons figure largely on these occasions. Is there any particular sentiment attached to this household commodity? or are so many brides deluged with spoons because the gilt involves less time and taste than other donations?"

There is one thing, however, it is a consolation to know, she is in favor of, and that is the velocipede:

"Carriage riding is by no means satisfactory for people who wish to enjoy the beauty of the park, while walking is generally wearisome; so, with all our heart, we wish success to the velocipede. Yet, where is the woman who will be willing to play the part of a pioneer in this new mode of travelling? Are there any among us brave enough? We will promise to put our name to any paper that may go the Legislature petitioning it to imprison all the small boys, and the big ones, too, if necessary, for such a length of time as it may take to establish the custom.

The Siege states "that the garment that will permit women to ride the velocipede is a problem for the modistes." We fancy our modistes are too clever to be puzzled by such trifles; or, if they are, they can pattern after the Paris styles, which are numerous and varied. Wishing to do all we can for the cause, we beg the modistes—who can do more than others—to call to their aid all the art and the taste with which nature and experience have endowed them, in the manufacture of costumes so charming that no woman can withstand them."

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1868.

THE PENITENTIARY.

We are not opposed to a Penitentiary. The State needs one. There is no end to crime, rascality and villainy in these times of degeneracy, and the perpetrators of crime are generally irre-possible and reckless persons, who would as soon live in jail as out of it, if they could get enough to eat there. The number is so great, that they ought to be made, and must be made, to pay their expenses. The labor to such persons is punishment, indeed, and in the Penitentiary, if it is well conducted, they would pay expenses.

But the Penitentiary ought to be built at a proper place and for a reasonable sum of money. But the Radical authorities of the State propose to do the reverse of this. The proposed site is in many respects ineligible, and, even if this is not so, the price to be paid for the lands purchased, and the amount to be expended for a "stockade," are enormous and monstrous. The truth is, there has been, doubtless, an outrageous swindle of the State in this matter, and we hope, in a few days, to ventilate it, and make it so plain that the most stupid Radical shall see and understand it. That a gross fraud has been practiced on the State, we think will be manifest to every member of the Legislature, who troubles himself to examine for a moment the facts before him and, as yet, nothing is done. The handful of Conservatives can do nothing. Why will not the Radicals, who have the power, do something? Are they all bought? Have they just sold out, lock, stock and barrel, to the "carpet baggers?" It looks very much like it. Frauds would seem to have been perpetrated to the amount of tens of thousands; the facts must be known to the Radicals in the Legislature, and they have the means of getting at the guilty parties; they have all the power, and yet they will not move a peg. The reason of this is manifest. High, low, Radical officials may have connived at, nay, participated in, the frauds, if not directly, probably indirectly.

The State is being "sold out" to speculators and "carpet-baggers," and the Radical office-holders are doing it. If there is any power that can be interposed by those who have an interest in the State, it should at once be employed. In a day or two, we will advert to these matters in a way that will open the eyes of the public and let them see a little of the doings of faithless public officials.

WHAT WILL THE SUPREME COURT DO?

We are anxious to see if the Supreme Court will consent to sit in the third story of the Capitol building, in order to accommodate the ridiculous pretensions of the "carpet-bag" Superintendent of Public Instruction, who now has possession of their Chamber. We predict that the Court will submit to this outrage, as it has done to others, and pay profound deference to the illustrious personage, who, without the sanction of law, and in defiance of it, turned the public records and law library up side down and sent them into the muddy of a place above stairs in the Capitol. Yes, the Court will sit up stairs, in deference to Ashley and Radicalism. The "carpet-baggers" will chuckle; the decent people of the State will laugh; the lawyers will curse, and the Radicals will congratulate themselves upon so splendid a triumph over law and Judicial dignity and the aristocratic spirit of the late Supreme Court. What care the "carpet baggers" and Radicals for the Supreme Court? Not a fig; it is no more to them than "Cape Cod" Ashley, and not as much; he is a giant alongside of the Court; he mocks and laughs at the Court and so do the Radicals, all! But North Carolinians hang their heads in shame at such a Court and such a mockery. What more could be expected of a Court composed entirely of political Judges? Nothing,—only nothing!

The lawyers say the Judges cannot lawfully hold Court in the cuddy up stairs in the Capitol, for the reason, that the law says the Court shall sit in the Supreme Court rooms. This makes no difference, for what do the Radicals care for laws or Constitutions? Nothing, simply nothing!—Let the Radicals triumph, who cares? Nobody, only nobody! Let decency, dignity and the "rebels" go to the Dogs! Let a black mark be drawn around the glorious history of the past of North Carolina, and let only its history, as illustrated in the deeds of Radicalism and "carpet baggers," be written by our illustrious Governor! Hurrah for Radicalism! Let it "wave" in triumph, as "Judge" Jones did, on Craven Street, one day, not many months ago! The glory has departed. Let North Carolina mourn.

PENITENTIARY.—We are in favor of permitting both sides to be heard, and we therefore cheerfully publish the communication of Chatham, vindicating the eligibility of the site selected for the Penitentiary. Even conceding that the location is all that could be desired, the price paid—already paid—for it, is monstrous, and the whole matter should be thoroughly sifted and probed.

The curious and indefinable "Yankee will not be content until this planet is surrounded by rings."—Standard.

Does the organ mean Whiskey "rings," Penitentiary "rings," Railroad "rings," or what? If those, the "planet" is already pretty well "surrounded."

Legislature of North Carolina.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, Dec. 3, 1868.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock.

The President stated that he desired to be absent for a week or ten days. He thought he had a right to be absent without consulting the Senate, but preferred that they should grant him leave; which was done, and Mr. Winstead was called to the Chair.

NOTICE OF BILLS.

By Mr. Welker: Of a bill for the relief of Executors, Guardians, &c;

Bill to punish violence by persons in disguise; and

Bill regulating the investment of Trust funds.

By Mr. Stevens: A bill to prevent stock running at large and requiring farmers to keep up their fences.

Mr. Holmes, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred a bill to amend an act in relation to punishments reported back the same, with amendments.

On motion of Mr. Barrow, it was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Sweet, from the same Committee, to whom was referred a bill to repeal an act restoring the common law right of dower to married women, reported adversely.—Placed on calendar.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS, VIZ:

The resolution in relation to the Supreme Court,—the question being on Mr. Winstead's motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee.

After considerable discussion, the Senate refused to refer, and the bill was amended and passed its second reading.

The resolution in favor of Wiley D. Jones, Wm Thompson, Wm Grimes and R. K. Ferrell, was taken up, on motion of Mr. Jones, and passed its third reading.

On motion of Mr. Sweet, the bill to consolidate the Atlantic and N. C. R. R. Cos., was taken up, and, after considerable discussion, was referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements, by a vote of yeas 22, nays 18.

Mr. Brogden said that, as Presiding officer of the Electoral College, he was authorized and instructed to tender the unanimous thanks of the College to the Senate, for the use of the Hall.

On motion of Mr. Stevens, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 2, 1868.

House called to order at 11 o'clock.

Prayer by the Rev. B. W. Morris, colored, of the House.

On motion of Mr. Estes, the rules were suspended, and the unfinished business of yesterday taken up, (being the joint resolutions concerning black-mail.)

The resolutions were again read, when Mr. Estes said he arose to move the adoption of the resolutions. He intended on yesterday, when he moved to make them the special order for to-day, to vote for them. He would vote for them now, though he objected to them. His friends had told him it would not do for him to spoil his hands by touching them in any way—that public opinion would not sustain him in any opposition to them. He was not afraid of public opinion. He stood here a Representative of the people, and deemed it his duty to stand out in defence of the dignity of this body. He regarded it as conditions as infamous, as flaming upon the honor of this entire body. So far as he was personally concerned, he was able to repel any insulting reflection upon his character, whether made by a Senator or a member of this House. A member of the Senate had pledged his word of honor, to sustain the charges he has made; he is the chairman of this Court, and to his (Mr. Estes') mind, the manner in which that gentleman had made the charge was like a Judge delivering his verdict before he had heard the case. In order to allow that gentleman to make good his charges, these resolutions gave him the most extraordinary powers. He (Mr. Estes,) was willing to allow him every latitude; therefore, notwithstanding his objections to the resolutions, he would vote for them. This affair had already cost the State nearly $1 000 000, for, being telegraphed all over the United States, it had caused our bonds to fall off from 3 to 5 per cent. He was anxious that a rigid investigation should be made, but he wished the resolutions to be properly shaped. Though the present ones did not meet his approval, yet he would vote for them.

Mr Loflin said that, as he had been detained from his seat, a greater part of the time, for the last two days, he was not informed as to the discussion which took place yesterday. He had read the resolutions in the sentinel. He, as Chairman of the Committee on Internal Improvements, and as a friend to such measures, had taken an active part in the introduction of such bills, and he felt it due to himself to have a rigid examination instituted. But he was not prepared to vote for the present resolutions, and, in order that he might have time to thoroughly understand and consider them, he moved to print and make the special order for to-morrow.

J. H. Harris, (colored,) of Wake, hoped the gentleman would withdraw that motion, and let us dispose of the matter at once. He had opposed the resolutions, because of their extraordinary character. He had discovered, and still discovered, in them a design to throw discredit not only upon this House, but upon the whole Republican party. He and all the colored men upon the floor had voted for Railroads. He should continue to vote for them. He pledged himself and all of them to go before the Committee, whenever asked, and be examined on oath.

He alluded to the Committee of examination raised, at the instigation of Mr. Durham, in the late Convention, and predicted that the search of this one would end exactly as the labors of that had done. He would vote for the resolutions, but would do so under protest at having all this disparagement and discredit evidently intended to be heaped upon the Republican party. He believed that any man, who charged any member of this body with such corruption, uttered a falsehood, and thought the Senator from Craven (Mr. Sweet,) must be non compos mentis.

Mr. Downing said he supported the motion to print, on yesterday, and would do so now. He had read the resolutions and thought them objectionable. In reading them in the sentinel, he discovered some strange passages; for instance, in one of the "whereases," we read of "buying black mail"—Can any one tell the meaning of that?

The Chair explained that it should read "levying black-mail."

Mr. Downing continued, saying that if mistakes and errors were made in one part, they were likely to occur in another!!! A substitute would be offered, doing away with the objectionable features of the present resolutions, and giving the proposed Committee all reasonable powers. He would support that, for he desired a rigid and close examination of the matter to be gone into consistently with the dignity and honor of this body. He would never vote for the resolutions in their present shape.—Never had such extraordinary resolutions been offered in this country, and if the Senator from Craven had not pledged his word and honor to make good the charges, he would move to indefinitely postpone. Here was a small Committee, with powers not only to arraign and try the whole Legislature, but the Governor and all! He had been in the Senate, when the matter first came up, and he had heard the Senator from Craven asked to name the men, and the reply was that they (the introducers of the resolutions) "were not willing yet to show their hands." The gentleman (Mr. Sweet) was using his influence in this House to secure the appointment of such a Committee as he wished to have. If he (Mr. Sweet) fails to substantiate the charges, it must result in his expulsion from his seat in the Senate. His political life hangs upon his success in this matter. He (Mr. Downing) was not afraid to stand here and protest against this indecent haste. If a resolution, properly drawn, looking towards the same ends, is offered, he would heartily support it, and give the Committee, when raised, all the aid and assistance in his power.

Mr. Sinclair followed in the same strain.

Mr. Seymour said he had not intended to say a word on this subject, but, as a personal friend of Mr. Sweet, he felt it to be his duty to say something.

As regarded the Representative from Wake, J. H. Harris, (colored,) calling Mr. Sweet non compos mentis, all he had to say was that he only wished, for the sake of the State, that this body had more like him. In regard to the wording of this resolution, that did not touch Mr. Sweet. They were in fact a substitute of Mr. Robbins'. No man who knew Mr. Sweet, would venture to charge him with being influenced by improper motives in this matter. Nothing but patriotic motives and convictions of duty had led him to make these charges. The resolutions did not throw any slur upon anybody. They merely gave the Committee power to be effective.—Who will object to that? A full investigation is necessary, in order that the honor and dignity of the Legislature may at once be vindicated. The Committee would have power to send for persons and papers, and to report, what? Not conclusions, but facts. There was nothing unconstitutional in them, though, perhaps, they were not in the best shape. The House certainly cannot object to the Committee swearing their witnesses, and, if they are proven to have perjured themselves, to make them liable to the pains and penalties of that crime. If there is no objection to those things, then whence does the objection come?—Some think these resolutions like the form of a regular enactment and require to be read three times.

Mr. Loflin: Were these read three times in the Senate?

Mr. Seymour: "I know nothing about the action of the Senate." He continued by saying he would support the present resolutions, and if they were to be thrown overboard, on account of phraseology, he would vote for any substitute securing a full and rigid investigation and which would give the Committee power to be efficient in their examination.

Mr. Pou said that if these resolutions had been based merely upon report, he would not be in favor of noticing them. But a Senator had pledged himself to prove the charges, and as for any indecency in relation to the hasty passage of the resolutions, he thought it would be more indecent in this body to hesitate in the matter a moment. There was a strong argument of haste advanced by those who opposed these resolutions. They say that this matter has caused our bonds to depreciate. Ought we not then to take steps that will lead to an immediate investigation, and have the affair at once cleared up, in order to relieve our State bonds? Nobody would be hurt by these resolutions, except the guilty parties, and, if there be such, no one, he knew, would endeavor to shelter them.

Mr. Downing said he had reason to know that the resolutions had not been read in the Senate three times and they would have to go back to that body. He hoped the motion to print and make the special order for to-morrow would be withdrawn, in order to allow a substitute to be offered.

Mr. Loflin withdrew the motion, when,

Mr. French offered the following substitute, viz:

WHEREAS, A certain member of the Senate of this State has declared, in his place, that he knew that "dollars and cents" had been used to influence the votes of members of this Assembly: Therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee of five, on the part of the House, to be joined by three, on the part of the Senate, be appointed to investigate the charges, and the said Committee have power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Ingram said it was his pleasure to know both the Senators alluded to so often in this debate. He was sorry to hear their motives so bitterly denounced. He would support the resolutions as they came from the Senate, and he would not allow himself to be driven from his position in the matter by threats and whispered insinuations of having "gone over." He was a Republican, and as good a one as any gentleman on the floor. He had his convictions of right and wrong, and intended to be governed by them.

Mr. Vest favored the substitute.

Mr. Pou hoped it would be voted down, though, if it had come from the Senate, he would have favored it.

On being interrogated as to the difference, he said the difference was that the Senate resolutions gave the proposed Committee larger powers to elicit facts than the substitute did.

Mr. French called the previous question upon his resolution.

Mr. Hodgett demanded the yeas and nays. The call being sustained, the motion for the main question prevailed by a vote of yeas 75, nays 32.

Upon the adoption of the substitute, Mr. Durham called for the yeas and nays. The call was sustained and resulted in the following ballot:

YEAS.—Messrs. Amos, Ashworth, Banner, Barnes, Blair, Carson, Carey, (colored,) Cawthorn, (colored,) Cherry, (colored,) Crawford, Dixon, Downing, Ellington, Estes, Forkner, (colored,) Foster, Franklin, French, Gahagan, Graham, Gunter, Harris, of Wake, (colored,) Hayes, (colored,) Hodgin, Horney, Hudgins, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Moore, Kinney, Lasley, Long, of Richmond, Mayo, (colored,) Moring, Morrill, Morris, (colored,) Pearson, Peck, Price, (colored,) Procter, Ragland, Ray, Rayner, Robbins, (colored,) Reynolds, (colored,) Sinclair, Snipes, Stevens, Sibley, Sykes, (colored,) Vest, Waldrop, White, Wilkie, Wilson, and Wiswall—54.

NAYS.—Messrs. Allison, Argo, Armstrong, Boddie, Bowman, Candler, Clayton, of Transylvania; Durham, Ellis, Fereree, Gatling, Gibson, Green, Grier, Harris, of Franklin, Hawkins, Hendricks, Hicks, High, Hunsant, Hodnett, Hoffman, Humphries, Ingram, Jarvis, Justus, of Henderson, Kelley, of Davie, Leary, (colored,) Long, of Chatham, Malone, Matheson, McCaless, McMillan, Mendenhall, Moore, Nicholson, Painter, Parker, Pou, Preslar, Robinson, Seymour, Shaver, Shirt, Slaughter, Smoods, Smith, of Alleghany, Smith, of Wayne, Stanton, Sweat, (colored,) Thompson, Vestal, Welch, Williams, of Harnett, Williams, of Sampson, and Williamson, (colored,)—52.

The resolutions, as amended, were then adopted.

Mr. Gibson presented a petition, which was referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

A message was received from the Senate, notifying the House of the passage of bill No. 52, in relation to obtaining license to practice law.

By consent, Thos. A. Skyes, (colored,) introduced a bill to amend the Charter of the town of Elizabeth City. Referred.

Mr. Seymour, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported unfavorably upon the bill in favor of the Sheriff of Halifax County. The bill was placed upon the calendar.

Mr. French, at his request, was changed from the Judiciary to the Finance Committee.

By Mr. Moore: A resolution instructing the Finance Committee to inquire into the expediency of selling the State's interest in the various Public Works. Referred.

By Mr. Vest: A resolution that inasmuch as the Principal Clerk of the House had certified that the Assistant Clerk was incompetent to discharge the duties of that position, the Principal Clerk be allowed to employ some competent person, for $7 per day.

(Mr. Vest stated that the resolution was not his, but that he had offered it by request.) Lies over.

By Mr. Malone: A resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire and report whether the Legislature could discontinue the office of Corte Commissioners, under the Constitution of the State. Lies over.

By Mr. Justice, of Rutherford: A bill to prevent the collection of debts contracted for slaves. Referred.

Mr. Seymour introduced the following bills:

A bill to fund the existing and floating debt of Craven county;

A bill to divide Craven county.

Both bills were referred to appropriate Committees.

The same also presented the report of the Commissioners of that county; which was also referred.

After the introduction of one or two other important bills, the House, on motion of Mr. Argo, adjourned until to-morrow, 11 o'clock.

TROOPS! TROOPS! TROOPS!

"Troops on the Plains are still needed."

"Troops are still needed in the Southern States."

These are the two utterances in General Grant's report, upon which "The Press," of Philadelphia, seizes with the avidity and eagerness of a man in the Sahara, parched with thirst and suddenly presented with a crystal goblet of cool and limpid water.

"The troops on the plains," which "are still needed" to quell the savages and prevent their provoked outrages on the white man, is a matter of course commendable in itself, thinks The Press. But, then, its announcement and citation The Press does not think call for such special gratulation as that other "unmistakable language" of General Grant's. This requires the use of italics—and accordingly we have it thus announced: "Troops are still needed in the Southern States." This announcement by General Grant, we are to believe, "has unmistakable significance," and we are told to "be thankful that it developes such radical loyalty."

Thus we see, that the edict which has gone forth, in reference to the requirement of troops on the plains and in the Southern States, is understood by The Press to develop "radical loyalty," and it forms the embodiment of its subjective notion of the phrase, "let us have peace." The spirit which animates that paper seems to gloat over peace by the bayonet—by "troops in the Southern States."

While the voice of the North, the South, the East and the West, is for peace, like that of the Roman warrior, who had become tired of war and confessed that his voice was turned on peace, this representative from the fraternal city is for troops.

But this is "sound and fury signifying nothing." We refer our readers to the laconic report of Gen. Grant, in this day's Express. It is not to be tortured into what The Press calls "its salient features"—"unmistakable language"—"unusual significance"—and "development of radical loyalty." It is mild, plain, temperate, and has nothing of the blood and thunder and vapor of smoke of The Press in it. Gen. Grant simply says on this point of Southern troops:

"The troops on the plains are all needed. Troops are still needed in the Southern States; and further reduction can be made in the way already used and now in operation, where it is safe, namely: By allowing companies to diminish by discharges without being strengthened by recruits, or by stopping appointments of second lieutenants if it should be deemed advisable."

If the South is to be kept under military rule; if this is to be the regime under which the policy of "let us have peace" is to be exemplified; if the country is to be saddled with taxation to protect "loyal men" at the South, who need no protection; if the unnecessary expenditure of $2,000,000 per annum for each regiment is to be entailed uselessly upon the people—why, then, we suppose, "troops are still needed in the Southern States"—and the "let us have peace" becomes merely a Pickwickian phrase.—Pet. Express.

STAY LAW—LAND SPECULATORS.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says:

"It is understood here that Gen. Grant will not authorize any extension of the Virginia stay laws, and consequently hundreds of the best farms in that State will soon be offered for sale under the hammer. In view of this result, it is rumored that an association will be formed, with a large cash capital, for the purpose of buying up these farms for speculation, as they will no doubt be sold at a great sacrifice. It might be well for those desiring to invest in Virginia lands to keep a lookout for these sales, and avoid the speculators' advanced prices."

The venerable Jacob Barker yesterday received his final discharge in bankruptcy from all his liabilities, which, according to his amended schedule, exceeded in amount a half million of dollars. Although due notice had been served upon the creditors, there was no opposition made to the discharge. Mr. Baker, though in his eighty-sixth year, is still hale and hearty, and intends, we believe, to enter again into the busy whirl of commercial life.—N. O. Pica yune.

DEATH IN HALIFAX.—Dr. Wm. H. Hill, of Halifax, died at his home in that place on Sunday morning last. He is well known through this entire section, having been engaged in the practice of medicine in Halifax for some twenty years, being about forty-five years of age at the time of his death. Dr. H. was a man of fine intellect and varied information, and has held a good position in the medical world. He leaves a wife and several children.—Roanoke News.

Senator Sumner recently, in conversation with a Herald correspondent, expressed himself as determined to take a stand in Congress for the immediate resumption of specie payments. Nothing more, he thinks, need be done with the reconstruction laws, as Gen. Grant will enforce their provisions. With Reverdy Johnson he was utterly disgusted, and was sorry he had ever consented to his confirmation as Minister to England.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will be resumed on Monday, the 4th of January next, and the direction of Miss MARIA E. MITCHELL, as Principal, aided by Mrs. E. S. GRANT, and other competent instructors.

It is the determination of the Trustees and Principal that this shall be a School of the best grade.

No other guaranty of Character will be asked by those who know Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Grant. But the Trustees deem it right to state that these ladies are daughters of the late Professor Mitchell, of Chapel Hill, and were educated by their father with a view to the profession of teaching; and that they combine, with unusual attainments, a happy faculty for imparting instruction, and a thorough devotion to the business, which they have prosecuted with success for some years.

The undersigned, on behalf of the Principal, will furnish circulars stating terms, &c., on application.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to imitate a difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for the purpose of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its wholesome element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottle, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United Sta es District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their names that the protections so carefully thrown around these schnapps would have precluded the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They possessed however only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the inducement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by quacks; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, fabricated trouble retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic schnapps in those markets; and merchants, who are in the habit of using it as a solvent due to, the bovine influence of Northern river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In consequence, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the so-called Aromatic schnapps that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitation; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every official the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off unscathed. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to the following classes generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from leading physicians and chemists of the city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect, pre-eminent, and, as deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

25 PINE STREET, NEW YORK,
Nov. 24, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or hurtful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

NEW YORK 53 CEDAR STREET,

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your branch warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or adulteration: that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 5.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed to the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bonded Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,

We remain your obedient servants,

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Anthracite Coal (Red Ash,): Douglas Bell, Fayetteville St.

ELECTORAL ELOQUENCE.

The sophomorical and spread-eagle exhibitions of the Electoral orators, in the Senate Chamber, on Wednesday, have never been surpassed in any other "College,"—not even by Freshmen, at an annual Commencement. Upon reading them, one would be tempted to swear that they had all been written with the same goose-quill. Such brilliant scintillations, such sky rocketting spoutings, it has seldom been the good fortune of the public to be astounded and delectated withal. We know of nothing, within the entire range of flash literature, to be compared to them, unless, perchance, it be "Judge" Olds' Climatic essay or one of Chaplain Pepper's Fenian bursts. Everything was glorious in the extreme. Glory encircled Brogden,—beamed from Laflin,—fairly irradiated young Pearson,—was resplendent in Barringer,—streamed from Holden, ills,—gave a golden lustre to Galloway,—flashed from every pump handle and glittered in every star. There was never anything like it before.

Galloway nominated Brogden for President, because he was an old "Secesh" and had repented. It is worthy of remark that when Brogden pulled a written speech out of his hat, and returned thanks for the unexpected honor, he made no allusion to these antecedents, which Galloway so unkindly recalled. It is generally the case, in pyrotechnical displays, when a defective piece is brought out, that its successor is made to blaze and splutter tremendously, to cover up the failure. It was so with Brogden. He tried to hide Galloway's impertinent reference beneath a perfect shower of sparkles and spangles.

But if Brogden was grand, Laflin was sublime. After giving four reasons why "I glory, sir, in this nomination," (to wit: of Gen. Grant,) he proclaimed, with a profundity of emphasis equal to the fourth string of a bass-viol, "I glory in this nomination as a triumph of Democracy, &c."—an announcement which caused several colored brethren in the galleries to exchange whisperings, and to eye the speaker suspiciously, as though the "Publikins" were being sold, and Laflin was the auctioneer. He talked of Leonidas, Phidias, Plato, Homer, Cincinnatus, Virgil, Napoleon and the Tanner of Galena,—the Tanner aforesaid being more than a match for all the rest of them combined. The gallant General concluded with the following poetic phantasy, which, as it is not, as printed in the Standard, embraced within quotation marks, we take to be original, and therefore copy, in compliment to the Electoral Muse:

O'er forest wild, o'er vale and green
The eagle of the ocean queen
Shall wave their pinions ever,
While peace shall strew her realms along
With love and life and dance and song
Forever and Forever.

No wonder that the remaining proceedings were comparatively spirit'ess. Laflin had exhausted the subject.

IMMIGRATION.—Jordan Stone, Esq., of Weldon, Secretary of the N. C. Immigration Association, gives notice that any one desiring information concerning the working of the scheme inaugurated at Goldsboro' can obtain the same by addressing him.—He will be pleased to receive the names of members of the Association, accompanied with the one dollar initiation fee.

LICENSES TO PRACTICE LAW.—The bill introduced by Maj. Malone, the Representative from Caldwell, conceding Attorneys' licenses, has passed both Houses of the Assembly, and is now virtually a law. It allows Attorneys, who have heretofore obtained license to practice in the former County Courts of the State, to practice in the Superior Courts, without the payment of an additional tax fee.

TROTTING MATCHES.—We are requested to state that the Executive Committee of the Central Agricultural Society at Henderson are actively engaged in enlarging the track on the Fair grounds at that place, and that it will be ready for the Trotting Races on Wednesday and Thursday next, the 9th and 10th inst. The new track will be three-fourths of a mile long and quite level.

The exhibition of stock, both running and trotting, promises to be very fine on the occasion, and several excellent horses have already been entered for the premiums. Among them are the celebrated fast trotters "Fly away," of Danville, Va., and "American Star," of Philadelphia, and among the running horses the thoroughbred "Scotia," belonging to Peter Davis, Esq.

GUILFORD HOUSE, GOLDSBORO'.—This well known Hotel has been leased by Messrs W. J. Jones & Co., who are re-fitting and renovating it, with the object of making it one of the first Hotels in the country.—These gentlemen will succeed in their efforts, as they not only have the requisite energy and enterprise, themselves, but all their attaches are thoroughly acquainted with Hotelling and their arrangements are perfect and thorough. Maj. W. A. Hearne, formerly of the North Carolinian, is connected with the management and has our best wishes for his success.

ROBESON COUNTY.—The following printed circular has been sent to the Sheriff of Robeson County by the Governor. Why printed, if only sent to the Sheriff of Robeson?

We rather think that if the Governor's officials should cross the South Carolina line and make arrests in that State, there will be a "speck of war" on the horizon.

If any parties in Robeson, or elsewhere, are engaged in lawless acts, they should be promptly dealt with, according to law.—We have heard, however, of nothing of that kind in the section referred to:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, Nov. 30th, 1868.

To the Sheriff of Robeson County:

SIR:—I have received information that bands of armed men, variously disguised, are breaking the peace, robbing and plundering, and causing terror to many of the good citizens of Robeson.

This lawlessness must be repressed, and the criminals brought to justice. The people of Robeson have the right to be secure in their persons, houses and property, and this right will be made good to them by the whole power of the State, if necessary.

It is especially your duty as Sheriff to preserve the peace, and to protect the honest and the law-abiding against robberies and violence. You have at your disposal for this purpose the whole power of the County. You are hereby commanded to use this power, prudently and judiciously, but with the utmost determination and firmness. If any Justices of the Peace should refuse to co operate with you in the performance of this duty, report them to me, and they will at once be removed. If you need more Justices to aid you, inform me of it and I will appoint them. In dealing with robbers and outlaws, such as those referred to, do not be embarrassed by technicalities or State or County lines; but see to it that you act with such vigilance, promptness and vigor as at once to deliver the good people of Robeson from the danger of being thus outraged and put in terror for their lives. This can be done only by pursuing and capturing these outlaws, and confining them to be tried for their crimes.

Herein fail not.

Very respectfully,
W. W. HOLDEN,
Governor.

THAT THE SOUTH presents an inviting field for the emigrant there can be no doubt. Her sunny clime and fruitful soil are inducements which will not be overlooked. Thousands are now waiting to come down to the flowery land, eager to rebuild its waste-places, and make its wilderness blossom as the rose—not to manipulate negroes or teach Anglo-Americans how to become a subject and abject race. While Southern reconstruction is the most important question of the times, its solution is the easiest. In the hands of honest men, men inspired with patriotic motives, it would be settled in a day.

Enfranchisement embodies it all—not partial, but the full, free and complete enfranchisement of Southern white men.—Unfetter them, and new life will pulsate through every artery. Unfetter the South, and millions of hands will be stretched forth to support the tottering temple of American liberty; the peace of the country will be secured, and the problem of Southern and national prosperity solved.

THE report that John Minor Botts is in a dying condition is without foundation in fact. Botts does not intend to die until he sees whether Grant will first give him an office.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION IN TENNESSEE. A lengthy correspondence on national topics is published in the Tennessee papers between Senator Fowler and ex-Governor Henry S. Foote. Mr. Fowler takes ground on the suffrage question, and earnestly favors the immediate enfranchisement of Tennessee "rebels." He speaks in strong and complimentary terms of the loyalty of the people of Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, and contends that a lenient policy on the part of the dominant party is all that is required to bring about full returns to peace and prosperity. He predicts that Gen. Grant's administration will be eminently liberal and conservative, and its first and leading mission will be to bring about universal suffrage. He further says that if the radicals of Tennessee fail to move in the work of enfranchising these proscribed fellows, they will have ceased to form a part of the great republican party of the nation. Gov. Foote promises that the people of the South, and especially of Tennessee, will thoroughly co operate with the incoming administration if it inaugurates anything like a forebearing and magnanimous policy, and he predicts none but the extremists of political parties will fail to support impartial suffrage. Both the Senator and Governor think this the great panacea for existing evils.

DANGER OF A COTTON MANIA.—The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle raises a note of warning on the danger of too exclusive a devotion to cotton-growing the approaching season. That paper says:

"With the staple at twenty-five cents, or even twenty cents a pound, money can be made by planting, provided the planter makes his own provisions. We incline to doubt, however, if money can be made when all the corn, long forage and provisions for the family and his laborers have to be bought at the present high prices. Neither do we believe that much clear money can be made upon rented lands. When the rent is paid, the laborer paid, the provisions paid for, the loss of work animals, and the wear and tear of farming implements are paid for, these will be but little left to the profit side of the account. Our eye has just fallen upon a statement made in one of our State exchanges that a tract of land of two hundred and eighty-five acres, in Polk county, rented for twenty-seven hundred dollars, or within a fraction of ten dollars per acre. The reason why it brought so much is stated to be because "it is among the best cotton places in the State." Now, when the renter of that place pays for his labor and provisions and then deducts from his crop twenty-seven hundred dollars for rent, we shall be greatly surprised if he has a single dollar left in the way of profits."

A letter from Naples speaks of a curious duel fought there. Two sailors threw themselves into the sea and there commenced their combat. Swimming about, they fought with desperation, until one was quite overcome and sank, when four of his companions rushed in to the rescue; but his life is despaired of.

GOOD NEWS.—A Washington letter in the Baltimore Gazette says that a decidedly better feeling seems to prevail among leading Radicals now here than existed last winter. I may say that there is a prospect of removing the disabilities under which Southern men are now prostrated.

For the Sentinel.

"AUDI ALTERAM PARTEM."

CHATHAM Co., Nov. 28.

Mr. Editor:—I noticed a communication in your paper of the 24th or 25th inst., referring to the purchase of the Lockville property for the Penitentiary, which is so erroneous in its statements, that I feel impelled to write a line to correct them.

Allow me to say, in the first place, that I am so little conversant with public affairs, that the article to which I refer was the first information I had that Lockville was to be the site of the Penitentiary.

Being opposed, in politics, to the majority of the Committee, and having no personal acquaintance with any member of it, I have no wish to become their apologist, but feel competent to form an impartial opinion in this matter.

I profess to have some knowledge of the resources of this State, and I certainly know of no situation more eminently suited to the purpose for which this is required than the one selected by the Committee.

Geographically as near the centre of the State as possible, soon to be in close connection by railroads with every section of it, leaves nothing to ask on that score.

Its other advantages I will sum up in a few words.

The Water Power is inferior to very few in the U. S. With the old fashioned breast wheels, ten thousand horse power would be a low estimate to put on it; with the improved Jonval Turbine, its power is almost incalculable.

It is in a healthy region, where an epidemic has never yet penetrated. It is in immediate connection with the Egypt Coal Mine, a most important consideration.

It is within a few miles of slack-water transportation of quarries of granite superior to the far famed Quincy granite.

It is in a good agricultural region, where all the supplies required for general subsistence can be procured without the expense of transportation.

And to crown all, it is the neighborhood of those immense deposits of Copper, Coal and Iron, which require only skill and energy to develop, which are destined to become the most important resources of the Old North State.

As for the statement made in the article referred to, "that the timber land was bought for Confederate money, and has been cut over for charcoal," I would say that I know nothing about the first part of it, but cannot see how it would affect the present value of the land, if it was true; as to the last part, I know the writer is misinformed. It is not true, generally, of the timber land in question, nor do I believe that a single acre has ever been cut for charcoal.

I have a personal knowledge of all the land in this county that has been cut for charcoal, for blast furnaces, within the last fifty years, and none of it is included in that sold to the Committee.

I believe Chatham county is the richest county in the State, in mineral resources, and one of the richest in the United States, and I rejoice that something is to be done to develop and bring those riches into notice.

Yours, &c.
CHATHAM.

THE DEMOCRATS CARRY AUGUSTA.

AUGUSTA, GA., Dec. 2.—The municipal election to-day passed off comparatively quiet, and resulted in the success of the Democratic ticket by about fifteen hundred majority. Several of the Radical candidates withdrew in the early part of the day and voted the Democratic ticket. Large bodies of negroes also voted for the Democrats.

The defeated candidate for Mayor is the notorious Radical leader, Foster Blodgett.

Augusta having heretofore been considered a Radical stronghold, the success of the Democrats is considered a great triumph. The citizens are jubilant to-night. There is a grand display of fireworks, bonfires, etc., the negroes generally joining in the demonstration.

GEN. GRANT'S ORDER AGAINST THE JEWS. The Israelite publishes a letter from Gen. Grant emphatically remarking, "I do not pretend to sustain the order." He explains the circumstances of its appearance; says it was issued without thinking of the Jew as a sect or race; declares he has no prejudice against any sect or race; and that the order in question was written, without reflection, at a time when he was incensed by a reprimand received from Washington for permitting acts which Jews within his lines were engaged in. Gen. Grant's letter is a frank and manly confession of a mistake or a hasty error.—N. Y. Times.

FROM RICHMOND—UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

RICHMOND, Dec. 3, M.

In the United States Court, to-day, (Chief Justice Chase on the Bench,) the argument commenced on the motion to quash the indictment against Mr. Davis.

Robert Ould, counsel for Mr. Davis, argued that the Fourteenth Amendment punished Mr. Davis by disfranchisement and that this punishment was chosen by the voice of the American people as a merciful substitute for the penalties of death and confiscation contained in the Constitution; that the punishment of Mr. Davis commenced upon the date of the adoption of the Fourteenth Article, and he cannot now be punished in any other way; that the latest expression of the will of the people in their Constitution is the law and repeals all former provisions made for those who engaged in the rebellion; that the Fourteenth Article is the latest expression intended expressly for and covering cases of all engaged in the late rebellion; and that no man can be punished twice for the same offence.

R. H. Dana, Counsel for the United States, said that Ould's proposition was, in the nature of things, entirely new, and was unexpected to the Government Counsel, and he expected also, to the Court.

Chief Justice Chase said that the argument of the Counsel was not unexpected to the Court,—it having supposed, after the announcement that this motion to quash was based on the Fourteenth Article, that this line of argument would be pursued.

Time was given the Government Counsel to confer and the Court took a recess at noon.

SOUTH CAROLINA BONDS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3, P. M.

The Stock Exchange, to-day, directed that North Carolina State Bonds, dated January 1st, 1860, and subsequently up to April 1st, 1863, inclusive, and, also, Bonds issued under the Funding Act, ratified August 20th, 1868, and dated October 1st, 1868, be good delivery for North Carolina new Bonds; and that all other new Bonds for the present be called separately.

This action is caused by the claim that the Acts of the State Assembly, authorizing the issue of Chatham and other Railroad Bonds, were unconstitutional and failed to provide for the interest on the Bonds by a specific tax.

FROM RICHMOND—UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

RICHMOND, Dec. 3, P. M.

After re-assembling the Court, Governor H. H. Wells and District Attorney Beach, for the Government, replied, contending that the fourteenth amendment merely created a disability and not a penalty which is the subject of a Judicial sentence and was not inconsistent with the Act against treason. The Amendment was prospective and could not reasonably be construed as intending to repeal or stay punishments for past and future treasons.

The Court then adjourned.

Dana closes to-morrow for the Government and O'Connor for Davis.

The corner stone monument of the Confederate dead, at Hollywood Cemetery, was laid to-day.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:

Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $220,942.66.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantages of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and receive a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It will also operate at home, in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance, and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. A GOOD MAN Uniteth IN HERITANCE

No extra charge for Females. No charge for Medical Examination, Policies or stamps.

NEW YORK.

THE UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, NEW YORK.

Office, No. 60, Liberty Street.

The Original Joint Stock Life Insurance Company in the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the insurance of first-class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the Mutual, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum assured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED, and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium for a promised dividend which is UNCERTAIN, CONTINGENT, and UNCERTAIN; while so-called dividend paying merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the "Universal" the sum of $11,751, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a Company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,674.

The difference between these sums ($3,277) is exactly the same as an immediate bonus or addition to the policy to be paid by the former office to the holder of the policy in case of the early death of the insured. It is true that if the insured, in an office charging high rates, live long enough, and have his periodical dividends added to his policy, the sum may equal or surpass that above named; but it must not be forgotten that the chance of early death is the very thing the applicant desires to insure against, and consequently the greater the sum immediately secured contingent on this event, the greater the advantage to the policy-holder.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty-three and one-third per cent., payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent, payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in insurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

Rates to Secure $1,000 at Death.

NIGHT WINDS.

Wind of the summer seas,
Voice of the sunset breeze,
Over the sedgy leas
Talking in whispers,
Coming, like pious nuns,
Full of sweet litanies,
Soon as the day is done
Singing her vespers.

Wind of the sultry eves,
Bringing the soul that grieves,
Sighs that a dear one heaves,
Over the billow;
Kiss of the loving air,
Stealing through lattice leaves
Stirring some dreamer's hair
On its white pillow.

Wind of the tender night,
Winging thy blessed flight
Where, under mantel bright,
Weary ones languish—
Sweet be thy soothing psalm,
Under the starry light,
Soft be thy touch of balm,
Unto Rizpa's anguish.

Wind of the mighty deep,
Dry all the eyes that weep,
Lull every heart to sleep,
Out of its sorrow
Wind of the holy night,
Over our slumbers creep,
Telling how love and light
Wait for the morrow!

FIGHT EXTRAORDINARY.

Last evening a fight occurred in which a man, a woman, and two dogs were singularly mixed up. Lieut. Goldey had his attention attracted by the cries of a boy, who complained that his leg had been injured by a fall. Two women stopped and expressed sympathy with the boy, and while they and the Lieutenant were endeavoring to alleviate his condition two dogs got to fighting. One dog ran around behind one of the women and the other dog pitched at his antagonist, taking the shortest course under the dress of the woman.

The result was, the last mentioned dog forced his head through the hoops worn by the woman, and, in this position, seized the other dog. As the dog who was fastened in the hoops plunged forward, away went the woman with him, and as he attempted to pull the other dog either way the woman had to come along. The woman screamed terrifically, and her companion did likewise. A crowd assembled, and the woman, whose skirts were entangled by the dog, cried lustily that she was being eaten up. Lieutenant Goldey chased about the woman until he obtained hold of the dog by the hind legs, and he pulled him with all his strength, but the frame of the hoops had curled tightly around the dog's neck. Lieut. Goldey now reached his hand toward the dog's head, and the animal became infuriated, the consequence being that dog, man and woman rolled on the pavement in a heterogeneous mass, the other dog all the time jumping around to seize the enemy.—The Lieutenant finally gave a terrific jerk at the hoops, which parted at the waist, and the dog started off, dragging the woman a short distance, when she became disengaged from them and the dog went off with the skirt, his head still in chancery.—The woman demanded a new skirt from the Lieutenant, in which she was backed up by her friend, whereupon the Lieutenant, having become exhausted at the dog fight, beat a retreat, he not desiring to have a woman-fight.

LATEST OUTRAGE UPON THE FASHIONS.—A newly inducted policeman in New Orleans recently had a singular adventure with a fashionably dressed lady, whom he met coming out of a dry goods store. He had heard of shop-lifters, who carried off the most costly goods in a sack disposed about their person. He was ambitious of distinction, and here was a chance for the coveted fame. The lady was evidently carrying a heavy load. She must be a shop lifter. There could be no doubt of it—he would arrest her:

"You are my prisoner!" he said, laying his hand on her shoulder.

"What do you mean!" demanded the insulted lady.

"What's that you've got on your back—stolen goods?"

"Heaven! I never was so insulted. No, Sir, it's not stolen goods.'

"I mean no offence, madam, but my duty compels me to examine it."

"Sir—villain—that's my—my Grecian bend!"
